2009 - 2010 Annual Report

Our Vision

To channel our community's energy so no one goes hungry.

Our Mission

Through community partnerships, we obtain and distribute emergency food from our neighbours for our neighbours.

Students of Riverside Public School, Elmira, raised over 3 pounds per student, almost 1000 lbs. of food, as part of the Kitchener Rangers Classroom Challenge food drive. Students then visited The Food Bank for an afternoon with some of the Rangers players.

"The goal of the Kitchener Rangers is to not only lead on the ice, but to be a leader within the community. We are inspired by the many students and volunteers that help The Food Bank and are happy to continue to serve and support this worthy cause along with them."

The Reality in the Region 2009 -2010

Thanks to the support of donors, sponsors, funders and volunteers, The Food Bank of Waterloo Region has been able to meet the challenges of the past year.

In the Fall of 2009 it was reported that Ontario had lost 227,700 full-time jobs since August 2008. One in three food banks in Ontario reported that their ability to meet the needs of their clients had decreased in 2009. Locally, the recession had an enormous impact on families. Local plant closures and layoffs meant greater numbers of the working poor and the unemployed going to food banks.

At the fall food drive kick off, Steve Sachs with the Labour Program of Waterloo Region reported that, "There are many inquiries from workers who are dealing with problems in providing the basic needs of their family. Unemployed workers in this community are using the food bank or food hamper programs. It may be on a one-time basis while they wait for their EI to kick in or more often if their EI has run its course and they are having difficulty finding work. The one thing I know about these workers is that they truly view The Food Bank as a "Bank". They make deposits as often as they can, but sometimes when life takes a downturn they have to make a withdrawal."

By September the 76 food programs in Waterloo Region that are serviced by The Food Bank reported an increase in need. Woolwich Community Services saw an increase of 10%. The House of Friendship numbers were up by 20%. Some St. Vincent de Paul volunteers were picking up food from The Food Bank every week rather than once a month.

This increased need put additional strain on The Food Bank resources and the partners in the Food Assistance Network. More food was needed for the community food programs throughout the Region. Funds were needed to ensure proper warehousing and transportation of the food. More volunteers were needed to acquire, sort, package and deliver the food.

The Community Response

Summer at The Food Bank typically means rapidly emptying shelves with few food donations to replenish them. This usually means our agencies have to make do with whatever substitutions we are able to provide to them. We always strive for nutritious, balanced meals and hampers. During the summer months this is even more challenging as demand continues while donations often drop off.

However, for The Food Bank of Waterloo Region the summer of 2009 was different. Community food donations increased by 50% compared to the summer of 2008. This food plus some large corporate donations of frozen food, including meat and vegetables, cold cereal, snacks, hot drinks and some important non-food products such as laundry detergent and personal care items all helped The Food Bank meet the needs of the community throughout the summer.

The Fall Food Drive goal was set high because of the great increase in need. Over 350,000 lbs was raised by the end of the drive. Through the holiday period another 240,000 lbs of food was received at The Food Bank! This meant that the 15% increase in the number of food hampers and the 17% increase in the number of households accessing assistance (many for the first time) could be met. Generous donors also provided funds to help with the delivery of this food.

Paxton Holmes, co-ordinator of the KW Workforce Action Centre, host of the Fall Food Drive Kick-off said, "When asked if we would open our doors to The Food Bank it was a given. In the past our local, its members and the companies they work for have always been strong supporters of community based organizations like The Food Bank, United Way and others and it's been truly inspiring to see these same people continue to support where they can despite being affected by job loss. The KW Workforce Action Centre is happy to be the first in line to contribute and we sincerely hope The Food Bank reaches their goal and this fall food drive is a great success."

Onkel Hans Food Drive 2009

In order to maintain the food inventory at consistent levels in the face of this increased need, The Food Bank asked the community to help in a number of different ways through the winter and spring instead of one Spring Food Drive at Easter time. The community once again responded positively. Construction raised over 34,000 lbs of food. In April, another 40,000 lbs of food was raised by individuals and traditional Easter/Spring food drives held by churches, schools, businesses and other groups.

On May 15 we tried our first one-day food drive, "DIG IN". The community response was heart-warming. Over 500 volunteers canvassed neighbourhoods, handed out bags at grocery stores, staffed donation sites, helped with transportation logistics and organized special events. All of the excitement and activity came together for one purpose and resulted in one great day for The Food Bank and those who rely upon us.

The support of Waterloo Region throughout this past year has kept The Food Bank in a good position to meet the growing needs of community food programs throughout the year. We are confident that whatever the next year brings our staff and volunteers will continue to Nourish Hope in our Region with tremendous support from the community.

Manulife chose to Attack Hunger as part of the 16th annual Staff A Bus organized by KOOL FM/KFUN, CTV and Grand River Transit. Staff were challenged to fill as many food drive bags as they could with donations and each would be matched with $100 from Manulife. Staff rose to the challenge, raising 21,058 lbs. of food. Manulife presented The Food Bank with a cheque for $40,000.

"The statistics related to hunger, even in our own community, are alarming. We need to continue to support organizations like The Food Bank of Waterloo Region, who implement defensive initiatives that contribute to the battle against hunger," said MTE Construction Team. Their fortress was made from 5000 cans and was awarded the People's Choice and Judges' Favourite in Construction, Waterloo Region 2010.

The ladies of Doon Curves in Kitchener made their food drive fun by giving it a 'Survivor' theme and by turning it into a challenge. They raised 5,646 pounds of food!

"If we are indeed coming out of a recession the last to recover is employment/jobs. Everyone is suggesting the recession is over, but we are seeing the lingering effects in this year as unemployment remains high and many good paying jobs no longer exist. This is increasing our numbers and the need for people to look to food assistance, many for the first time."

Food Donations

In the past year The Food Bank received and distributed over 3 million pounds of food. If we would value this food at $ 2 per pound, the food would be the largest revenue and expense source.

Revenue

Expenses

Through the generosity of the community, The Food Bank is able to maintain a Capital Maintenance Reserve Fund to keep its building and fleet up to date thus minimizing annual operating expenses. In addition, development of an Inventory Management System is underway that will improve distribution efficiencies and ensure the safety of food supplies.

A focus for the upcoming year is the identification of new food sources – including fresh local product. An allocation to the Food Purchase Fund will allow for additional resources for community harvest projects and food purchase of fresh and nutritious product.

Volunteers & Donors Nourish Hope

Volunteers are directly involved in all aspects of The Food Bank, nourishing hope to neighbours through their professionalism, enthusiasm and compassion. In 2009, 1846 volunteers provided 22,712 hours of service to The Food Bank of Waterloo Region. This is equivalent to 11 full-time staff. Volunteers provide leadership through the board and committees, organize events, coordinate food drives, deliver food and supplies and pick up food/financial donations. They also sort and safely store food, assist member agencies, answer telephone inquiries, train other volunteers, assist in promotions and are continually raising awareness so others can share with their community, every day.

Each year The Food Bank is proud to acknowledge volunteers who make significant contributions of time to our organization. In April 2010, 37 volunteers were recognized for donating between 100 and 600 hours of service and 12 volunteers received pins for 5 and 10 years of service.

The Nelson Jarvis Award is presented to an individual who exemplifies the spirit, philosophy and goals of The Food Bank. This year's award recipient, Tim Jackson, has brought a level of leadership to our organization that has allowed us to grow, expand and improve services while maintaining a heightened level of trust and recognition as a viable charity in our community. Although Tim is stepping down from the Board of Directors the results of his passion for leadership and philanthropy will continue to mold our organization.

At the 14th International Construction Competition in Las Vegas ...

it was announced that the "Parthenon-Building a Long Lasting Community" structure built by the Waterloo Architecture Student Association team from the University of Waterloo was the winner of the Best Meal category. Construction is the Society for Design Administration's community service project that promotes the design community and raises food for hunger relief. This was the third year for Waterloo Region to hold a Construction competition and the first year an entrant was recognized at the international level. The jury wrote, "Standing high on the Acropolis, this Parthenon could sustain the ancient residents of Greece through a famine. This wonder of the world was packed with nutritious food and symbolism." Congratulations to the Waterloo Architecture Student Association and to Research In Motion for providing the support necessary for the team to compete.

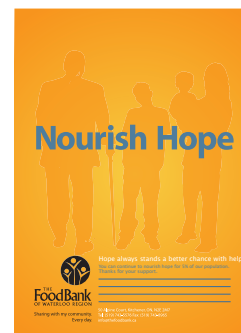

The Food Bank and Web 2.0

In 2009-10 The Food Bank entered the world of web 2.0. Students from Wilfrid Laurier University created guides for Facebook, YouTube, Kijiji, LinkedIn and Twitter for The Food Bank. Our new video, "Sharing with my community. Every day." is our first posting on YouTube (<<http://www.youtube.com/user/FoodBankWaterlooReg>>) and can also be reached from a link on our home page. Everyone is encouraged to become a fan of The Food Bank on our Facebook Page and follow FoodBankWatReg on Twitter.

Graphic design for the 2010 food drive materials...

and the cover of this report was developed by Sean Willson, graphic design student at Conestoga College. Sean was pleased to have his design selected by The Food Bank. "To be part of something as significant as this cause, means a lot to me. It's not every day that you get to create awareness for something so important and often ignored. I hope others will also see the positive effect they can have and help nourish hope in our community," commented Sean.
